Napa, San Jose and other towns are flooded, but no further overflow is apprehended if it does not rain heavily No estimate can be made of the damages yet but it must be immense The levee at New Hope Mokelumne river, gave way in three places this morning. All reclaimed lands are under water.

A dispatch from Hanford, Tulare county says that this morning, Mr Parkhurst, railroad agent for leasing lands to settlers was waited on by a band of armed settlers and asked when he intended to leave town. On answering that he would leave in the morning he was allowed to go The breach between the railroad and settlers still prevails Both sides are determined

One Wire Working—The Situation of Delayed Trains and Passengers—Clear Road Expected To-Day.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—Only one wire is now working over the mountains, which is entirely occupied by railroad business [illegible] has been got up, but it is yet only available for business From dispatches received over the railroad wire the following appears to be the present condition of affairs. Passengers due in San Francisco on the 21st and 22d are all comfortably provided for at Truckee, and will be [illegible] forward as soon as the storm abates [illegible] laborers attached to snow plows to [illegible] their way through the formidable barrier. The Boston excursion party are lying at Reno, and have made the trip to Virginia City. Passengers leaving San Francisco on the 20th are held at Alta west of the snow belt, and those leaving on the 21st are at Sacramento. A snow plow left Truckee this morning with nine engines and 250 men to clear the road of snow and slides between that point and Summit They expect to have that portion of the road clear by this evening Two plows are working west of Summit with ten engines and 700 men and expect to have the snow belt clear by 6 A. M to morrow There is a heavy sand slide in the cut near [illegible] Station Arrangements have been made with a local mining company to lay a pipe and use a giant to sluice out the mass of earth. No passengers are detained at any point in the snow belt, but are all [illegible] and at stations where they are well provided for The storm commenced on the 18th inst., and has continued with unprecedented violence until the present writing, leaving 18 feet of fresh snow at Summit. The storm has swollen streams to such an extent as to seriously endanger railroads, many places being washed on the Oregon division, on the Gales ... line on the Stockton and Copperopolis road and at other stations all of which it is confidently expected will be in running order by to morrow. The line through from San Francisco to Fresno has [illegible] and trains are running on time.

SEATTLE April 22—Extensive reports from the Skagit country are just received per steamer [illegible]. Recent reports have increased in [illegible] with every additional exploration until an eager [illegible] in regard to the richness and extent of the mines, appeared to have vanished from the minds of our people.

THE FISHERMEN'S STRIKE

PARADE [illegible] STRIKERS [illegible]

The Men [illegible] Determination [illegible] A [illegible] Interview [illegible] Mr [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] heard [illegible] Astoria [illegible] invited the [illegible] heard [illegible] contrary [illegible] to pay more than 50 cents The [illegible] induced in very loud talk but committed no untoward act After their interview with Mr Leinenweber they returned in procession to town and disbanded Hearing afterwards that 20 boats were going out to fish for the Astoria Fishing Co at 50 cents a hundred or more proceeded to that cannery and a delegation waited on Mr Geo Taylor the manager requesting him as a favor to postpone sending any boats out until to morrow (Wednesday) night. The request being made in a respectful though urgent manner Mr Taylor desiring to pursue a conciliatory course and considering it an indication that many of the fishermen were having their eyes opened to the actual political [illegible] of the course they were pursuing granted their request and detained the boats.

A mass meeting of fishermen is called for to morrow afternoon and as it is well known that hundreds of fishermen (probably a large majority if the truth was known) are convinced of the false position they have taken, and are ready and anxious to go to work at 50 cents which is not only a fair but a liberal price It is hoped that this unfortunate and foolish strike will terminate and harmonious relations be restored as they ought to be between employers and employed

Grand Concert by the Astoria Musical Society

Notwithstanding the stagnation of business and scarcity of specie (owing entirely to the disgusting and ill advised strike of the fishermen) the Astoria Musical Society gave their concert this evening to a very large and appreciative audience The singing was excellent The first part of the programme consisted of selections of a high order, and delighted the large assembly Where all the numbers were so finely rendered it would be invidious to particularize The event of the evening however was the rendition of Farmer's mass in B flat This was given entire and moved from beginning to end with precision and accuracy Miss Nora Wilson deserves especial mention for the remarkable precision and finish she displayed in the unusually thankless part of accompanist. Great credit is due to the society for their faithful work as a class during the past year The concert to night was a satisfactory proof of the advancement they have made, Prof E Cook has been their conductor from the beginning, and now finds it impossible to continue with them longer Toward the close of the entertainment Mr W B Adair on behalf of the society, delivered the following valedictory

Ladies and Gentlemen This being the occasion of the fourth and last concert of the Astoria Musical Society, under the leadership of Prof Cook permit me to take this opportunity on behalf of its members to extend our fullest expression of thanks to the professor for the very faithful and efficient manner in which he has conducted the society for the past year and to state that we recognize him to be a thoroughly competent musical instructor, as well as an estimable gentleman, and we regret exceedingly that his engagements will not permit him to remain with us another term The thanks of the society are also due Miss Nora Wilson who has been exceedingly kind and accommodating at all times in giving us the benefit of her valuable services on the organ

Mr Adair closed his remarks by thanking the numerous ladies and gentlemen present for the interest they had always manifested in the affairs of the society. The pleasant termination of Prof Cook's engagement to the society is highly creditable to both parties

PROCEEDINGS OF THE CONFERENCE

Full Report with the Arguments of both Parties.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN]

ASTORIA Or April 21, 1880

The bone of contention between the fishermen and cannery owners still exists, and if each carries out the firm resolve they have expressed, a deadlock to both salmon fishing and canning interests must be the result In accordance with telegraphic directions received from THE OREGONIAN to report proceedings, your correspondent attended the public meeting which the fishermen had invited the cannery owners to attend this afternoon To accommodate the large number expected to be present the Fishermen's Protective Union rented Liberty Hall for the occasion and as soon as the doors were opened every seat and every space of standing room was occupied Mr Gilmore, president of the union called the meeting to order and as it was a public meeting requested the audience to elect a chairman Those Dudley a supporter of the strikers was elected, and he stated that the object of the meeting was to debate with cannery men the subject of the price to be paid this season for salmon He invited any representatives from the canneries present to come forward and occupy the platform The invitation was accepted by Messrs C Leinenweber J A Devlin Robt Watson S D Adair John Hume John Hauthorn Geo Taylor of the Astoria Fishery Co and D Morgan, Jr of G W Hume's cannery These gentlemen being seated the chairman renewed the object of the meeting and added that he hoped that the first man who made any offensive remarks or demonstrations while any of these gentlemen were speaking would be thrust from the hall

Mr Leinenweber of Badollet & Co's cannery being called upon made the opening speech After referring to his record of fair [illegible] dealing with every man in his employ during the years [illegible] had the management of the cannery with which he was connected—a record which he [illegible] any man to deny he said he would [illegible] year to show them that the [illegible] was perfectly unjustifiable In [illegible] contracted to pay his fishermen [illegible] salmon Before the season was half over he had been offered fish for as low as [illegible] but in good faith with his men he had paid them to the end of the season the 50 cents agreed upon although the market price was so low that [illegible] must follow and many people [illegible] he had passed while struggling [illegible] possible to carry his men through [illegible] the end of the season salmon was [illegible] a few canneries [illegible] [illegible]

Mr Leinenweber closed his address by a lively [illegible] that has been [illegible] he had paid Chinamen [illegible] the winter for knitting to refute which [illegible] to Mr [illegible] a list of which he [illegible] the [illegible] for labor performed

Mr J A Devlin followed Mr L [illegible] said [illegible] as follows [illegible] out a number of boats last night at 50 cents Your committee requested me to await the result of this meeting and their request was granted [illegible] would willingly pay you 60 cents [illegible] Leinenweber s nor any other man s opinion [illegible] have any weight with me [illegible] my own judgment and responsibility and I now tell you freely and frankly if you will not go out or

[illegible]

This was met by the response of many delegates We'll elect you anyhow You shall not decline etc

The convention then proceeded to ballot for five delegates to the Chicago convention The result of the first ballot was as follows S K Hanna 146 H W Scott 131 O P Tompkins 124 D C Ireland [illegible] J M McCall 122 A G Hovey 89 Chas Hilton 85 H R Kincaid [illegible] So Messrs Hanna Scott Tompkins Ireland and McCall were declared duly elected as the delegates to the national convention to meet in Chicago

Hon A G Hovey then moved that the vote for delegates to the Chicago convention be made unanimous carried without a dissenting voice

The convention then adjourned until [illegible] o clock so as to give the district judicial committees time to assemble and make the district nominations

Upon reassembling the committees from the several judicial districts presented their nominations They were as follows

First district—Judge [illegible] Prosecuting Attorney, A J Hanna

Second District—Judge J F Watson Prosecuting Attorney J A Yantis

Third District Judge [illegible] Prosecuting Attorney [illegible]

Fishermen Accept the Old Terms.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN]

ASTORIA April 22—The fishermen held two open air meetings to day At the first a leading striker declared his intention to fish for fifty cents if he could get a boat and net which created great excitement The meeting adjourned to 3 P M.

LATER—They have just closed the second meeting and the strike is at an end It is thought that the presence of District Attorney Caples hastened a conclusion Over 200 boats will go out to night

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

Second Day—Morning Session

The convention assembled at the appointed hour Hon J C Peebles president in the chair

A motion was made that the motion by which the order of business was adopted be rescinded and the same be changed so that the convention be allowed to select the delegates to the national convention was carried after a prolonged discussion

On motion the convention proceeded to the selection of five delegates to the national convention and the following names were placed in nomination D C Ireland H W Scott J McCall S K Hanna O P Tompkins, A Myers H R Kincaid Charles Hilton

Mr McPherson arose and said I would say that Mr H W Scott is the peer of any man in this convention as a republican He and I have been in many a hard fought battle with the enemy and we all know that he has never wavered He is the editor of the leading republican paper of the state and a staunch Blaine man

D Powell—I would ask the gentleman from Josephine I believe Mr Scott is not a solid republican but claims to be an independent republican

Mr McPherson—The republican who is not independent does not deserve the name of an American citizen [Applause]

H W Scott then appeared before the convention and said

Mr President and Gentlemen of the Convention I have been called in such haste that I do not clearly know what has taken place in the convention this morning But I hear there has been contention over a matter with which my name has been connected With the indulgence of the convention for a word I will say that I have hardly been a candidate for the Chicago convention at all certainly I have no desire to go yet as so many of the delegates yesterday urged it I did say that I would go if elected Last night I declined to be a delegate at large because it seemed to be the desire of Mr Mitchell's friends to elect him But Mr Ireland has been chosen for this district he desires to go, he and I are friends, and I can by no means consent to exclude him With thanks to the convention I therefore decline to be a candidate and withdraw my name

RATIFICATION

[illegible] Meeting

Speeches by Hons W [illegible] George C H Watson [illegible] Dolph W [illegible] A C Gibbs [illegible] Odell and [illegible]

[illegible]

It may not be amiss for me to say a few words in regard to myself I expect to remain here very soon a candidate of the [illegible] Jackson county and [illegible] Fast in Oregon I shall in [illegible] present my views on national questions the most important issues to be passed on by the people and upon these questions which affect the interests of Oregon and which if the action of the convention is ratified in June I will be called on to carry out When I came to Portland five years ago to study law to practice a profession which I had chosen I had no intention of taking an active part in political affairs but the people of Multnomah [illegible] thought fit to elect me [illegible] the election as state senator I told them then that I would discharge the duties of that office to the best of my ability My record during that session [illegible] the legislature of Oregon will attest whether that promise was fulfilled I promised the convention yesterday that if their action in my case was ratified next June I should endeavor to discharge the duties of congressman to the best of my ability also

I have been in Oregon for over a quarter of a century When I first came to Portland I was carried in the arms of my now aged mother Then there was only one house on the east side of the river Then the rails of commerce [illegible] the Willamette To-day under the influence of the spirit of progress and development we have a country a state and a people that we may well feel proud of To lay the interests of Oregon requires the most earnest attention of her representatives in congress Her arteries of commerce to meet the future necessities of this young and growing state need to be improved at their entrances and along their entire length Her harbors need to be improved her commerce protected her vast internal improvements so served her material interests protected [illegible] legislation should be in accordance with the spirit of the age.

I take this occasion to return my hearty thanks to those who assisted in conferring the nomination The nomination was not desired nor coveted by me unless it should be freely, heartily and honorably offered by the people of the state and an election is not desired unless freely and honorably obtained The trust will be accepted in the same spirit tendered and to the best of my ability be discharged My object and my aim will be only for the public interest and welfare Private interests or private opinions should never sway the actions of a representative They should faithfully represent the interests of the whole state and the welfare of the whole people If I ever cast a vote in the halls of Congress it will be only in representative not an individual capacity I will not attempt to discuss the political issues of the day on this occasion I will be followed by others who will dwell upon this subject fully Those of my friends who know me well, know that my principles are in accord with the principles of the great republican party of this nation On these subjects I shall be fully heard during the coming campaign The standard of republicanism in Oregon placed in my hands shall be carried faithfully until victory crowns our efforts

It is probable that the democratic nominee for congress, Governor Whiteaker may not be able to participate in the state canvass If so he shall be treated at my hands so far as he is personally concerned honorably and with the respect due one who is in the position assigned him by his constituency.

When I accepted the nomination I used a metaphor I wished that all hands were as one pair of hands that I might grasp and cordially shake them I am glad to say that I have realized the experience of united hand shaking in a hand sore with the grips of my fellow citizens I can assure you that there is a warmth and earnestness in the honest grip of the hard palmed yeomanry of this state that is indicative of the true hearty and when one hand gives out the other shall be extended, and a hand shall ever be ready to shake as long as there is an honest voter to shake it at. [Laughter]

I shall not detain you longer Other and more able speakers are present who will address you on the important questions of this political year Again let me thank you one and all

Hon C B Watson on being introduced said an unexpected honor had been conferred upon him by the convention just adjourned It was conferred by many who were strangers to him and promised that whatever ability he had would be exerted in behalf of the republican party The campaign was not yet fairly opened and he would not argue the great issues as he expected to in the district which he should canvass before the election He remembered twenty years ago when a boy between the handles of a plow while his father was on the battlefield contending for republican principles that he believed in the party and had believed in it ever since The old saying that the evil that men do lives after them the good is often interred with their bones is true of the democratic party Nothing [illegible] will and that will be buried out of sight in the coming canvass

Gen L F Applegate was called for and made a stirring speech which aroused much enthusiasm

Ex Gov A C Gibbs was the next speaker He said that it is supposed that in every form of government the existence of two parties was necessary but he could see no possible reason for the existence of the modern democratic party The republican party is a party of principle and of progress the democratic party is a party of opposition [illegible]

[illegible]

The ladies connected with the female college movement cleared about $90 at their sociable at the university last Friday evening The repair and furnishing of the Wilson property will be commenced at once preparatory to opening the boarding house connected with the enterprise at the commencement of the next school year

And now a newspaper correspondent pertinently desires an explanation as to the reason assigned for paying a hardware firm wherein our democratic mayor is a partner prices ranging from 10 to 100 per cent higher for hardware purchases for the city than other firms charge the penitentiary authorities for the same class of goods. We give it up

The question arises will or will not Geo A Edes the defeated candidate for nomination as county clerk before the republican convention accept the place left vacant for him on the straightout democratic ticket Hon B F Bonham made an earnest appeal before the convention in Mr Edes' behalf and the convention—under seeming protest—left the place blank on the ticket. Thus the matter stands

The Spokan Times reports that agents of the government had a talk with the Spokans at Peon Prairie on Saturday and Sunday chiefly about land matters advising them to lose no time in securing the lands they have occupied under the Indian homestead act of 18[illegible] The natives responded that this is the first clear understanding they have had of the situation Although there is dissatisfaction among them stimulated largely by a few vicious Indians and unprincipled whites there is no disposition to hostility, and they are inclined to make the best of their circumstances [illegible] plows and [illegible] have been distributed among the Lower Spokans and they are doing their utmost to get to farming [illegible]

A NECESSARY REJOINDER

It would appear that Mr J H Mitchell supposes it impossible for the republicans of Oregon to hold a convention and conduct their deliberations without his special advice and to emphasize that advice he has a habit of sending it in long telegrams to be presented to conventions. For years no convention has been held without a dispatch of instruction and advice from Mr Mitchell. Two years ago when the convention was in session at Salem he sent a dispatch of sixteen hundred words, glorifying himself talking about his great railroad policy which consisted in unfriendly legislation to the Northern Pacific and advocacy of his scheme for the Columbus River and Salt Lick road and advising the convention what it ought to do to sustain him. Fortunately that long dispatch fell into the hands of a man who had sense enough to suppress it. This time he sent another dispatch to be used in a theatrical way for his own advantage. With a presumption unknown to any except those who imagine themselves bosses of party by some sort of divine right he worded his dispatch in an offensive and dictatorial manner talked as if the republican party of Oregon were his own property and misrepresented THE OREGONIAN in order to get a chance to rebuke it. Now this journal has been for a year past treating Mr Mitchell with a great deal more forbearance than an intriguing arrogant and selfish politician deserves. It has scarcely referred to him. It certainly has not misrepresented him and his reference to it in his dispatch was not only a piece of gratuitous impertinence but a challenge to it which it does not hesitate to meet. The dispatch was read in convention just at the time when it would appear to give its author the benefit of the heavy indorsement of Mr Blaine. It was timed exclusively for that purpose. Sent for the purpose of being read in the convention, and used for the purpose for which it was sent, it was a piece of insufferable arrogance and egotism and though it was received with the loud acclaim of appointed clacquers it would have been thrown at once and with indignity out of the convention, had there not been a great deal of forbearance in that body, based on a strong desire to have harmonious action. It was evident from the subsequent action of the convention that Mr. Mitchell's advice was neither wanted nor relished. Certainly it had not been asked and the lesson that he and his little band of personal followers have received will probably be a lasting admonition to him and them to send and present no more dispatches on these occasions. It would be quite possible, we have no doubt, to carry on a republican convention without them.

He takes an article in THE OREGONIAN of the 3d April and misrepresents it to suit his own objects. He says that this journal "while recommending selection of Blaine delegates, advises against instructions and urges protest by convention against Grant," and adds "I hope the convention will go further and instruct emphatically for Blaine, he is my decided choice and has had my voluntary pledge of support for months." Now here is what THE OREGONIAN of April 3d said "In this state there is little or no sentiment in favor of Grant for president. Nineteen out of twenty republicans are against him. Therefore only such men as are known to be invincibly opposed to the Grant programme should be sent to Chicago. Instructions for any candidate may not be best, but instructions not to vote for Grant would be in order and moreover delegates should be elected who will pledge themselves to go in person and represent truly the wishes of the republicans of Oregon." This is what Mitchell calls "advising against instructions for Blaine." It is simply an expression of uncertainty as to whether the convention, though electing Blaine delegates, would think fit to give positive instructions. As matter of fact positive instructions have not been given. The resolution declares that the delegates are "expected to use all honorable efforts to secure Mr. Blaine's nomination." But every delegate from Oregon, knowing the sentiment of the republicans of the state, is bound in honor and in fact to give Mr Blaine an active and constant support. We may say here that the words "hereby instructed," as we learn from the chairman of the committee on resolutions were stricken out by the sub committee and the word "expected" substituted before the resolutions were reported, so that the statement heretofore made on the authority of a member of the committee that the erasure and substitution were made after the resolution was reported to the convention, was a mistake.

So much for Mitchell's assertion that THE OREGONIAN of April 3d, had "advised against instructions for Blaine." Mitchell now professes great fidelity to Blaine, but his dispatch shows in every line his inclination to support Grant. He is an active member of the Cameron-Conkling school of politicians, who are eager for the restoration of Grant, because they want to command "patronage" and hold in their hands the means of controlling party organization and conventions, as they used to do. And it is just because the people know this, that Grant will never again be president. They are tired of these things and want no more of them. THE OREGONIAN had not placed itself in opposition to Mr Mitchell. It did not object to his appointment as a delegate to Chicago. His friends wanted to send him, and it made no opposition. Hence he had no occasion whatever to send this dispatch for the purpose of making a false arraignment of THE OREGONIAN before the people of the state, and parading his own small political importance through a cunningly devised juggle of words, pretendedly without hostility, but in reality discovering in every line the unfriendly purpose of its author toward this journal, together with a most manifest anxiety to keep open his own communications with the Grant party.

"As I have been misrepresented in certain quarters by interviewers and others you are at liberty to make this public." This is the concluding sentence of the dispatch. Early last winter when the "boom" for Grant was started, Mr Mitchell was interviewed by a reporter of a Washington newspaper who represented him as saying among other things that "the Pacific states were wild and solid for Grant." A summary of this interview came in our telegraphic report. THE OREGONIAN at once took issue with the statement. We presume this is one of the instances in which Mr Mitchell claims to have been misrepresented by an interviewer. But to those who know his ways, the [illegible] tion at once presented itself that he got himself interviewed on that occasion and then went to the agent of the associated press and had a summary telegraphed. Oregon is not for Grant, hence Mitchell [illegible] it best not to be for him. We would have preferred that it had not been necessary to make any of these statements but they become necessary from the fact that he has seen fit openly to make an issue for which there was no call whatever. Since he has repeatedly tried the efficacy of dispatches to republican conventions as if his advice had been sought and was indispensable we may suggest if possible without giving offence that hereafter he will grant on these occasions the boon of silence. He will contribute greatly to the harmony and satisfaction of conventions. His position in the politics of Oregon is rather peculiar. Having adopted politics as a profession, his constant aim is a seat in the senate. But though he still [illegible] himself [illegible] can be gained [illegible] when the chief advantage of such support would manifest itself [illegible] members of the convention have been such as to let the delegates from all parts of the state into a knowledge which they had not before possessed of the schemes and tricks practiced by a faction whose headquarters are in Multnomah [illegible] having been [illegible] by the republican state convention on the issue forced by Mr Mitchell and his followers can well afford to [illegible] Oregon is for an independent republican newspaper. We know how miserably these personal contentions are and what none of them but if what has happened on this [illegible] shall prove a lesson against the [illegible] triving, and the arrogance so common in political management it will not be altogether without useful results.

PROPERLY RESCINDED

In rescinding the order of business previously adopted the republican convention yesterday did a good piece of work, chiefly because through such rescission the absurd method of electing delegates to the national convention by judicial districts was set aside. This district rule was only a scheme to give additional opportunity for trading in conventions and so to increase the chances of adroit and unscrupulous managers to bring about results to their own liking. It was played by the Multnomah delegation always set up to do the business of the [illegible] four years ago but the convention on that occasion adopted an expedient which prevented the result intended. This time the same thing was played again only in a slightly different way and the convention seeing to what uses the trick was employed determined to set aside the whole scheme of playing fast and loose and to elect all the delegates by the whole vote of the convention. This is, indeed, the only fair and proper way. Oregon consists of a single congressional district. The absurd refinement of the local sovereignty rule which divided the delegates among the five judicial districts with one at large, had the effect merely of giving those who pull the wires of conventions more material to work and trade on. The convention seeing how it was abused swept it away. It is not probable that it will be revived. The professionals of Multnomah having revealed some of their tricks and methods to the delegates assembled from the rest of the state were subjected to sharp discipline for their pains and the lesson may do good. The incident has shown to the delegates from all parts of the state what manner of manipulation is practiced by the association of professionals who have their principal place of business in Multnomah and extend their operations as far as possible into other counties. It shows them too, the justification of THE OREGONIAN's free criticisms and the necessity of having a newspaper strong enough and independent enough to state things plainly as they are without fear or favor.

Mr Blaine seems to be as much in favor in California as in Oregon. Few counties have yet held conventions but in those which have spoken there are instructions for Blaine. It is believed there will be little or no opposition to him in the state convention. Following the example of Iowa other states of the solid republican phalanx of the north are going for Blaine. At the recent town elections in Michigan the voters were canvassed as to presidential preferences, and the returns from sixty counties and 327 voting precincts were as follows: Blaine, 21 642; Grant, 6097; Sherman, 1976, and the rest scattering, showing conclusively that the republicans of Michigan are almost four to one in favor of Blaine as against Grant. In the southern states, which will furnish no republican votes, Grant gets the delegations.

In good time the state convention discovered the true inwardness of that peculiar convention held a week ago last Saturday in Multnomah at which a committee of three selected twenty four delegates for the state convention. And having discovered it the state convention sat down on the programme in a way that astounded its authors. Let us have peace.

A candidate who will command a support much wider than the membership of the party in whose name he has been nominated is Hon Raleigh Stott. He has the respect of the bar, is a fine lawyer, has an unexceptionable record and is very popular. Mr Stott will be elected by a great majority.

A proper resolution was added yesterday by the republican convention in relation to the plunderers of the Grover Chadwick administration. Had it been made still more comprehensive it might have answered even better, for the subject is a very large one.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 23, 1880.

CITY.

WHARF DUES.—In the San Francisco Commercial Herald of April 15th, appears the following: "A decision of some importance to ship-owners has just been rendered by the United States supreme court, denying the constitutionality of the ordinance of the city of Baltimore which imposes wharfage dues upon vessels arriving at that port with the products of other states, while those bearing the products of Maryland are exempted from all such dues. The court follows upon the line of previous opinions by declaring that the discrimination can not be tolerated, and that the ordinance is an infringement of the power of congress to regulate commerce. The dues will either have to be remitted altogether or else imposed equally upon all vessels, without regard to the points from which their cargoes have been shipped."

STOCK AND PRODUCE EXCHANGE.—A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Holton House, on Front street, by the stockholders of the Portland stock and produce exchange. The stockholders embrace a number of the prominent merchants and capitalists of this city. Mr. S. S. Landeshut the originator and leading spirit of the enterprise, addressed the meeting at some length, setting forth the purposes, aims and advantages of the exchange. After some preliminary proceedings the stockholders and subscribers proceeded to the election of officers, with the following result: President, Col. John McCraken; vice president, W. H. Newbury; treasurer, First National Bank; caller, S. S. Landeshut. The interior of the Holton House has been fitted up very neatly and conveniently, and presents a very office-like appearance.

CALL FOR A R. R. MEETING.—The Vancouver Independent contains the following call, signed by a number of the leading citizens of Vancouver: "We respectfully invite our fellow citizens to meet with us at the City Hall on Monday evening, the 26th inst., at 7 P. M., for the purpose of considering and exchanging views on the question of a narrow gauge railroad from this place to the city of Portland. We are credibly informed that responsible parties will undertake and obligate themselves to build and put such road in operation by the end of this year, upon the performance of certain conditions by the citizens of Vancouver and others. We are of opinion that the road would help materially to increase our population and enhance the value of property, and is therefore entitled to our earnest consideration."

SIXTY YEARS MARRIED.—A surprise party of an interesting nature took place near Willsburg, five miles southeast of Portland, on Wednesday evening, 21st instant, at the residence of George and Sarah Wills, it being the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Wills, who are among the early pioneers of Oregon, still live on their donation land claim. The recollection of early events is very bright in both. Mr. Wills told of many circumstances connected with the early marriages of this state, he having been an elder of the old school Baptist church for over forty years, and performed the marriage ceremony for many of the early settlers before there were any marriage laws in Oregon. We are happy to say that Mr. and Mrs. Wills are still hale and hearty and do their usual work every day.

RELIEF SOCIETY.—The Relief Society connected with the Taylor Street church, held its annual meeting Tuesday evening, in the parlor of the church. President J. F. Jones in the chair. Reports from the secretary and treasurer were read. Since its organization over $450 have been expended among destitute families. The president, J. F. Jones and the treasurer, Thomas Connell, having refused the nomination, the following officers were elected to serve the coming year: President, Mrs. M. F. Mulkey; vice president, Mrs. Wm. Watkins; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Acton; treasurer, Mr. E. W. Cornell; board of managers, Mrs. J. F. Jones, Mrs. W. Connell, Mrs. E. J. Northrup, Mrs. T. H. Crawford, Mrs. E. W. Cornell.

ADDITION TO THE HOSPITAL.—To accommodate the patients who are constantly making application for admission at St. Vincent Hospital the Sisters of Charity find it necessary to enlarge that institution. It has been determined to construct a large addition on the north side of the hospital, which is to be 60 feet wide and 100 feet long. The contract will be let soon, and work commenced at once thereafter and be pushed vigorously forward to an early completion. The necessity for enlarging the hospital demonstrates the fact that its great benefits to the sick and suffering are being felt and appreciated under the careful and judicious management of the kind Sisters.

EAST PORTLAND BAND.—This musical organization tendered a serenade to Hon. M. C. George at his residence in East Portland last evening. The band was accompanied by a crowd of Mr. George's friends and neighbors, and he addressed them in a brief speech after which a procession was formed and proceeded across the river, escorting the candidate to Turn Halle, where music was furnished during the ratification meeting. After the meeting this office was complimented by a serenade from the same band, for which our thanks are returned.

TO BE COUNTERSIGNED.—Arrangements have been effected with the several railroad and steamer lines to convey all persons who desire to attend the Odd Fellows' orphans' entertainment next Monday at half fare rates. All tickets, however, must be countersigned by Mr. A. N. Gamble, secretary of the committee of arrangements, at the pavilion, before they will entitle the holder to return free. Full fare will be charged one way and nothing on the return.

A CONCERT.—Mr. T. C. Humphrey, the leader of the choir of the Methodist Episcopal church of Vancouver, is preparing to give a grand concert in Brant's Hall this (Friday) evening, April 23d, for the benefit of the church organ fund. The programme is an excellent one, and the public may expect to enjoy a rare treat on that occasion. The admission fee has been fixed at the very small sum of 25 cents.

AT WHITE SALMON.—It is learned that the weather at White Salmon has been mild and pleasant, and the prospects for a large fruit crop, including peaches, are very good. The peach, cherry and plum trees were in bloom last Saturday. The grass is far in advance of that on the opposite side of the river. Many new settlers have recently taken up land, and are putting in grain and vegetables.

"ODD FELLOWSHIP—WHAT IS IT?"—Hon. M. C. George, the present nominee for congress, will take an active part in the exercises to come off next Monday at the anniversary entertainment for the benefit of the Odd Fellows' orphans' home at the Mechanics' Pavilion. Mr. George will read a paper on "Odd Fellowship—What is It?"

HALF FARE RATES.—J. M. Bacon, Grand Secretary, I. O. O. F., has made arrangements with the various transportation companies to convey representatives and wives who attend the session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., in May next, for half fare—full fare going, and returning on grand secretary's certificates. Be sure and get certificates.

PROPOSED BENEFIT.—We are informed that an entertainment will be given at New Market Theater on Friday evening, April 30, by Miss Clara Rennick, assisted by others. The proceeds are to be donated to the Good Samaritan Hospital. The comedy entitled "Little Treasures" will be produced.

CONTRACT AWARDED.—The contract for the construction of a bridge on Q street from its intersection with North Thirteenth, was awarded yesterday by the committee on streets to A. J. Watson. The bridge to be constructed is to be 1050 feet long, and the contract price is $2135 25.

LARGE FLYWHEEL.—The Willamette Iron Works a few days ago cast a flywheel fifteen feet in diameter, weighing six tons, for Hoskins & Co.'s sawmill at Ainsworth. It is the largest casting of the kind ever made north of San Francisco.

DECLARED A NUISANCE.

The following resolution was introduced in the common council Wednesday evening by Councilman Weber, read and laid over until the next meeting:

To the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland:

WHEREAS There has been granted to the Portland Street Railway Company the right to construct a street railway in First, South First and North First streets; Fifth, North Fifth and South Fifth streets; B street, Washington street, Taylor street, Jefferson street and Hall street, by ordinance No. 1065 approved September 2, 1871; and

WHEREAS said railway company has failed to comply with the terms of the ordinance granting the right to construct and operate said railway; and

WHEREAS, By reason of a failure to comply with the provisions of said ordinance First, North First and South First streets have been and are now greatly damaged by a non-compliance with the provisions of said ordinance No. 1065, more especially the non-compliance with the provisions of section 5 of said ordinance, which requires the said railway to be constructed of the most approved pattern of street railway iron; while the fact is that said railway track is built of old and condemned T rails in direct violation of said ordinance. That said track as now maintained is a serious damage to First street, North First and South First, because being constructed of said iron, it is impracticable to keep the same in good repair, and to prevent serious damage to vehicles crossing the same. And also it being impracticable to construct nicholson or belgian block pavements alongside said old or T rails, so as to make a smooth and substantial pavement such as is demanded in one of the principal streets of the city; and,

WHEREAS The said Railway Co. have repeatedly promised to replace the said T rails with the pattern required by said section 5 of said ordinance No. 1065, but have so far failed to comply with said promise; therefore, be it

Resolved, That said Portland Street Railway Co. be notified that unless the provisions of said ordinance 1065 be complied with within sixty days from this date, all the rights and franchises heretofore granted to said Street Railway Co. will be deemed forfeited and said track in First, North First, and South First street declared a nuisance.

CASH RETURN.

Several years ago B street was extended and ordered improved, by the common council from North Thirteenth street to the city boundary, where it intersected with the Balch and Barnes county roads. Within such limits were included the heaviest filling ever done by the city, the embankment on B street near North Eighteenth, amounting to fifty-four feet in depth. The filling in of other places ranged from twenty to fifty feet deep; and, although the street was only graded to a width of twenty feet of top, the slopes to sustain the sides of the fill increased the expense so much that only one or two lots on the south side of the street, between Washington street and the high ground near North Nineteenth street, sold for anything like enough to pay for the improvements. The consequence was that the city had to pay the assessment—amounting to about $13,000—and consequently the chief of police was ordered to deed the property to the city. The south half of block 278 and lots 2 and 3 in block 94, Couch's addition, were also included in such purchase. Lately the committee on streets and public property was ordered to sell such real estate, and, in pursuance of such order and a properly advertised notice, it was yesterday auctioned off, as follows:

8 ½ blk 278, Couch's Add. to B. Wistar Morris	$245
Lots 2 & 3, blk 94, Couch's Add, to Van B. DeLashmutt	55
Lots 1, 2, 3 & 7, blk 324, city to Louis Fleischner	55
Lots 3 & 4, blk 325, city to H. W. Monnastes	40
Lot 8, blk 312 city to Van B DeLashmutt	30
Lot 7, blk 315, city to Louis Fleischner	30
Total	$515

The last amount, less the auctioneer's commissions, will be turned into the general fund as soon as the deeds are made out.

PERSONAL.

Capt. A. Reed of Gardner, and Mr. W. H. Byars of the Roseburg Plaindealer gave us a pleasant call last evening.

Mr. Edward Failing will leave by the Oregon this morning on a visit to San Francisco. He will be absent from Portland about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Severance of St. John's will leave on the steamship Oregon this morning for a visit to the "down east." This is their first return to the old home after an absence of fifteen years.

Rev. J. H. Acton, editor of the Advocate, leaves on the Oregon this morning for the east. He will visit his mother at Frankfort, Ohio, and will probably drop in on the general conference for a short time. His daughter, Miss May Acton, will accompany him on his return in June.

Mr. C. B. Watson, editor of the Lakeview Herald, and one of the republican electoral candidates, leaves by the Oregon this morning for home. The roads from Ashland to Lakeview are so rough that the round-about way via San Francisco is the nearest in point of time, and much the more easily traveled route.

Rev. Dr. A. L. Lindsley and wife will be passengers on the outgoing steamer. The doctor goes to San Francisco, where he will deliver a lecture before the theological seminary. Dr. Lindsley has been appointed a delegate to go to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, which has been called to meet at Madison, Wisconsin.

MR. WELCH'S PICTURES.

There are to be placed on exhibition this morning, in Mr. Morse's windows, four or five pictures, the work of an Oregon artist, Mr. Thaddeus Welch, who left this coast some years since and has been pursuing his studies in Munich and in Paris. Those who saw his first ventures and were led to encourage and assist him in the purpose of his life have reason to be proud of their [illegible] and these pictures are a significant suggestion to our native artists and to patrons of art, as to the value rather we should say the imperative necessity of subjecting oneself to the discipline and the inspiration of the schools. The world has not patience for a thousand years without [illegible] [illegible] experience and however great the genius of a would-be-artist, he is wasting, [illegible] say the least, the larger part of his life, when he neglects to place himself where the canons; the rules, the principles and the technique of art are supplied. It is true that no [illegible] [illegible] away from the [illegible] not a born artist. Such a one will be a wooden imitator all [illegible] to the end. But the [illegible] [illegible] however genuine his instinct may, for the lack of proper [illegible] waste years in overcoming the simplest mechanical difficulties and in correcting blunders which a word from the master would set right.

It would be small praise of Mr. Welch to say that he has profited by instruction [illegible]. He has, if we are not mistaken, done far more. The pictures he sends show him as bearing the [illegible] rank of American artists. We venture to prophesy for him a reputation in the future by the side of such men as Hunt, or Gifford, or Hart. They exhibit a remarkable versatility of talent. While the influence of "the schools" upon him is very strong, as is the case with all artists in their earlier efforts, it does not seem to find him only a servant. There are many hints of the severest study and some degree of independence and individuality, which will increase as he gains confidence and strength. The young artist in Europe finds himself one only of perhaps a thousand students, all striving for a common end—endeavoring to conquer the secrets of effect and power in the works of this or that leader of the salons. The intensest application is required and their achievements for a long time are scholastic in character. He only is fit to follow the bent of individuality who can build from a sure foundation. There is not a more laborious man on earth than a painter who makes a conscience of his art."

We shall not undertake a minute description of the works now in Mr. Morse's window. They will command instant admiration, and the first impression which each picture will give of unity, tone, motion, will be coloring, and this is the highest praise of a work of art. The strict subordination of parts to the whole, and of details to the central thought, is evidenced in the snow landscape. The group of sheep is remarkable, and resembles the best work of Jacques. In the Cobbler of the Faubourg we have really a brilliant example of genre painting. The contrast between the face of the child and that of the old man deserves close study and commendation. The artist has achieved a wonderful success—giving an elaborately worked scene, which yet sustains itself with all the simplicity of nature. The spectator feels at home in the old shop with its quaint surroundings—"senses" the warmth of the room from the stove—sympathises with the honest calculating face and gesture of the old cobbler, and the attentive expression of the child. We look out of the window into the street beyond and can feel the snow out there as do the birds on the homely window frame. The "unity" of this picture is perfect—and the control of so many elements (any one of which failing, however little, would instantly stamp the picture with an artificial look,) is an evidence of genius. The coloring is admirable—indeed we are in danger of too many superlatives, with all of Mr. Welch's work.

His close study is best evidenced in the figures and character of the group of sheep. Note the face of the nursing ewe, and the "drop" in one leg of the sheep upon whom another is resting his head. The little lamb facing the beholder is a remarkable study and an example of skillful foreshortening. If we should venture a criticism for the sake of discrimination, it would be that the landscape in this picture should have been more thoroughly subordinated to the group of animals which forms the "motive" of the scene. The canvas really encloses two pictures, which would be improved by isolation. That Mr. Welch thoroughly understands this idea is shown in the "Turf Gatherers." The shadowy distance, with the barn and retreating figures and the lack of detail in the foreground, lend the charm of unity and proportion to the scene, just as it comes to the eye fixed upon one point in nature. The "atmosphere" in this snow scene is well done, and it is in our judgment, though less elaborate than the others, the best as a work of art among the pictures.

It remains to say in conclusion of these words, which do not pretend to be more than a hearty expression of feeling, that they are wholly spontaneous and are written with the hope that Oregon will not fail in due appreciation of her first finished artist. The pictures themselves should meet with speedy sale, and word be sent to Mr. Welch that we are proud of him and mean to sustain him, so far as lies in our power we should generously return the confidence which leads him to send some of his pictures to his old home. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The annual reports which were read to the church last Sunday, show the addition of 46 new members, and a total of about 400 communicants.

In the two Sabbath schools there are about 450.

The funds contributed reach all kinds of Christian and philanthropic efforts, and amount to $9150 as actually reported. This amount, however, is only an approximation towards the sum total contributed by this congregation.

The Chinese evening school and Sunday school, long suspended for the want of an interpreter, has been resumed with very favorable prospects.

There are two women's societies and one young ladies', devoted to Christian work, which raised in the aggregate about $600.

Miss S. L. McBeth, a member of this church, is laboring with great success among the Nez Perces in training the future teachers of that tribe, and the effort among the Alaskans, which began in this church, is growing in usefulness and importance.

John McNeil, a member of this church, has entered upon a summer's campaign among sailors and fishermen at and around Astoria.

Other departments of Christian work in this city and elsewhere are vigorously sustained.

A site for a church in the north part of the town and another in the south have been secured through the liberality of two members of this church.

The true catholic spirit of Christianity is manifested by this church in co-operating with other denominations in advancing the common interests of morality and religion.

This rapid sketch gives a glimpse of the possibilities of usefulness which are constantly opening before this church. They must be developed by prayer and silent watching and patient effort until they expand in their full influence and mature into a bountiful harvest.

The former pastor was Rev. P. S. Caffrey. The value of church property is $30,000. The seating capacity of the church is 400.

The present pastor is Rev. A. L. Lindsley, D. D., who has had charge of this church for nearly twelve years.

To go through life with "snags" in the mouth. Abominable no more to the sufferer than his friends. Buy SOZODONT, and cleanse the teeth which remain, or, better still, use it now and save your teeth. SOZODONT is economical.

Life has few Charms for the Dyspeptic, which is not to be wondered at when we take into account the amount of bodily and mental suffering that this distressing malady generates. The Peruvian syrup (a protoxide of iron) has cured thousands who were suffering from this disease.

PROGRESS OF IMPROVEMENTS.

At the beginning of the year Mayor Thompson in his annual message anticipated that the amount expended for street improvements which in 1879 reached $[illegible] would in 1880 aggregate $[illegible], but the prospect of the first four months of this year indicates that the work in 1880 will cost over $[illegible]. Up to the 1st of May of last year, as we have found by the records, the common council had passed eleven ordinances providing for the improvement of different streets, and in pursuing the matter we find that up to the present time the same authority has adopted [illegible] them similar ordinances providing for street improvements. Hence we may safely say that the amount expended in the improvement of streets in 1880 will be [illegible] as [illegible] greater than the amount expended last year as nineteen is greater than eleven, by which we may estimate the cost of street improvements of 1880 at $25,000, or an increase of over 72 per cent.

The fact of property owners feeling the urgency of proposed improvements may be seen from the fact that in a number of instances the owners of more than two-thirds of the property assessable for a street improvement have sent to the common council petitions asking to have the improvements made without the delay of the notice which would otherwise be necessary, as in the case of the long bridge on Q street and the macadamizing of G street from North Thirteenth to North Nineteenth streets.

THE OREGON KIDNEY TEA!
Read the following testimonials, not from persons 3,000 miles away, whom no one knows but from well known and trustworthy citizens of Oregon, whose names, written with their own hands, can be seen at our office:

Harrisburg, Oregon, December 31, 1879
The Oregon Kidney Tea has done my wife as much if not more good than any of the many remedies she has used for pains in the back, and I believe it to be a good remedy for the diseases which it is recommended for. A. M. COX

Harrisburg, Oregon, December 31, 1879.
Some three months ago I was attacked with a severe pain in my back. I bought a package of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and by the time I had used one half of it was entirely relieved and have not been troubled since. I cheerfully recommend it to all who may be suffering from a lame or weak back, as a pleasant safe and good remedy.

Uniformly successful and certain in its remedial effects, it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. A GOOD THING.
German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Beware of medicines of similar names, lately introduced. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. Sample bottle 10 cents.

AMERICA THE LAND OF PLENTY

[From the New York Evangelist.

In looking through the great trade centers of the west, we are daily reminded of the vast contrast between this country and those of the old world in regard to our almost boundless supplies of food, while cries of starvation from Ireland and from Persia are daily ringing in our ears.

Without counting the tens of thousands of tons of pork and lard and beef which crowd our Atlantic steamers on their outward voyages, let us look for a moment how the situation "figures up" in regard to bread.

On the 1st day of January of this year the stocks of wheat then in Great Britain were published, and they amounted to seven millions of bushels in Liverpool and London; and seven millions more in all the various other ports combined, such as Bristol, Hull, Belfast, etc.

On these seas at that date, sailing towards Great Britain, were eighteen millions more, ten of which, however, were from the Pacific coast, and would not reach England until April or May. The remaining eight millions were mainly on the Atlantic ocean, so that there were "in hand" and near at hand, twenty-two million bushels of wheat on Jan. 1st. The home-grown wheat throughout England and Scotland was so damp and inferior that the mills could not use it. Much of it would eventually go for animal food, starch-making, and the remainder, after months of drying, might be fit to use, and it might not.

Now, estimating the population of Great Britain at forty millions, and knowing that each individual eats bread enough to require over five bushels of wheat in a year, the consumption of the country requires 200 million bushels a year, or about four million bushels per week; so that on Jan. 1st they had on hand and soon to arrive, five and one-half weeks' supply of bread.

For a moment suppose that we in this broad land had only five and a half weeks' supply of bread in hand. Would not the land be clothed in mourning? Would not prayers go up in all the churches to avert the threatened starvation? Would we not have fast-days appointed everywhere, from Maine to Arizona, and from Oregon to Florida?

What a wail would go up to the God of nations, to spare our goodly land from famine, and fever, and death! Now let us look at the reality of our own situation as compared with England's little 22,000,000 of wheat available January 1st.

Our government bureau of agriculture at Washington, sets down our wheat crop of 1879 to have been 448,000,000 of bushels. We have over 40,000,000 of people, who eat their five bushels a year each, making 200,000,000 bushels required for bread. Thirty-two million acres were sown with wheat last year, requiring, at 1¾ bushels per acre, 56,000,000 bushels for seed for the next crop.

We have shipped to foreign lands since last July, in wheat and flour, less than 100 million bushels; so that we have now in the country, in addition to the remainder of the 200 million bushels we shall have eaten up by next July, 92 million bushels for continued foreign shipment, or enough to feed us if we should stop selling abroad, until January 1, 1881.

Surely "He maketh peace in our borders and filleth us with the finest of the wheat."

In this "figuring" we have not mentioned our vast corn crop, which for last year is set down by the government bureau to have been one thousand and four hundred millions of bushels. It was over one thousand three hundred millions in each of the two previous years—that is, a bushel for every man, woman and child on the face of the earth, the world's population being estimated at one thousand three hundred millions. We can form some idea of a million bushels, from the fact that it would load a train of cars twelve miles long. Last year's corn crop, then, would require, if all loaded in cars, a train sixteen thousand eight hundred miles long! The wheat crop would fill five thousand three hundred and seventy-six miles more, and the oats two thousand seven hundred miles more; so that, our three leading crops of grain would fill a train so long that it would more than encircle the globe at the Equator!

Surely "our garners are full, affording all manner of store," and we can exult with the psalmist when he sings

> "Thou crownest the year with thy goodness
> And Thy paths drop fatness.
> The valleys also are covered over with corn,
> They shout for joy,
> They also sing."

Old Moses before he went to Pisgah asked "For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them?" Did he mean us?

GEORGE W. MEARS.

MATTHEW ARNOLD.

A CONSPICUOUS FIGURE IN ENGLISH LITERATURE AND PHILOSOPHY.

[London Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.]

Matthew Arnold is one of the great names if not one of the great men of Britain at the present time. He has an extraordinary reputation and influence. His name is mentioned as often, I think, among the educated classes as the name of any man in the United Kingdom. One hears it continually in London; and a new essay or book by him is always certain to make a stir, not in literary circles alone, but in social and political circles also.

He is very opinionated, decidedly egotistic in a large way, and sometimes dictatorial. He impresses different persons dissimilarly. I know those who deem him delightful, and others who pronounce him unbearable. The truth is that he is moody. Meet him this evening, and you may be charmed with him; meet him next week, and you will dislike him cordially. He has an inbred hatred of common-place folks, and is persuaded, in the face of nature, that men do not own the right to be fools. When thrown into the society of men of ideas and congenial tastes he is very attractive, and talks so eloquently and wisely that it is a treat to listen to him. But, as a rule, he is not accessible, and keeps sedulously out of miscellaneous society.

Many stories—I can not vouch for them—are told of his rudeness, such as refusing to see persons who had brought letters to him, and encountering amiable, courteous men whom he knew perfectly well with a stony British stare, as if he had never seen them. I have heard him styled a snob—"snob" and "fool" are constantly and unjustly applied to men we disapprove of—but he is nothing of the sort, and nobody well acquainted with him would couple Arnold with the word. He is, indeed, the reverse of a snob. His respect for himself approaches veneration; his sense of his proper dignity and importance is often overwhelming. Snobs are not of this composition.

He seeks not applause from the many, but appreciation of the few, his mental peers. He is averse to the modern method of putting special force into lines and fragments, believing that the mind should be equally directed to the whole work, as it is with the old Greeks. He has received more credit for what he does not merit than any author I can recollect. One is always hearing here and at home an allusion to a quotation from his work which is in no manner distinctive or noticeable. He says things that anybody might have said, and they are mentioned as strikingly original.

Curiosity is active here to know what he believes concerning evangelic subjects. Next to nothing, I presume. He has, like most thoughtful men, a religion of his own, but his religion is the antipodes of orthodoxy. He feels that there is some sort of creative power behind the universe, though he does not pretend to any notion of what the power might be. He has no faith in dogmatic theology, nor in radicalism as ordinarily understood, either; nor in the blessing of public improvements or free trade; nor in the policy of foreign conquest; nor in many political and moral schemes which one part of the British community swears by and another part swears at. He has ample faith, however, in education, and has mastered the subject as no other Englishman has; and if he could be made minister of public instruction, or something of the sort, it would be good for the kingdom.

Good and Sound Sense.

This is a year when all personal preferences should be subordinated to the paramount duty of selecting the most available man. These are facts which should be carefully weighed by the delegates to Chicago.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN
The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast,
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES.
DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease.
He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH,
such as SPERMATORRHŒA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this source of disease is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.
I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.
Every thing strictly confidential under all circumstances.
Lost manhood perfectly restored.
Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.
Consultation free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.
Office—No. 63 First street, between Oak and Pine.
Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

Catarrhal POISON!
Wei De Moyer's Treatise on Catarrh, explains the following important facts:
1. That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local, and finally constitutional.
2. That, being constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies.
3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs.
4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Bronchitis, Leucorrhœa, and Consumption.
5. That Smokes, Douches, Inhalations, and Insoluble Snuffs cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named.
6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucous wherever located.
Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wei De Moyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony:

MRS. J. SWARTZ, JR., 240 Warren St., Jersey City, cured of 18 years Chronic Catarrh.
A real cure for this terrible malady, is the most important discovery for the relief of human suffering, since vaccination. Wei De Moyer's Catarrh Cure is sold by all Druggists, or delivered by D. B. Dewey & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y. for $1.50 a package. To Clubs, six packages for $7.50. Dr. Wei De Moyer's Treatise, with full explanations and overwhelming proofs, is Post-paid and sent free to anybody.

MIDDLE AGED MEN.
There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and turbid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.
